

CSEF - Center for Studies in Economics and Finance – www.csef.it
University of Naples Federico II - Italy

Research Fellowships

Job Description

The Center for Studies in Economics and Finance (CSEF) invites applications for Research Fellowships starting in the Fall of 2018. There are no restrictions regarding the research area. Applications by candidates of any nationality are welcome: knowledge of Italian is not required for the position.

The Fellow will be appointed for 3 years. The salary will be up to 60,000 euro before taxes, depending on qualifications, publications and research profile. Teaching a graduate course is required. After 3 years, the Fellow may be hired for a tenure-track position.

The Fellow will work at CSEF, a research center that joins the University of Naples Federico II, Bocconi University and the University of Salerno. CSEF is located in Naples and directed by Prof. Marco Pagano. Information on the research activity of the center is available at www.csef.it.

Application procedure

Applications should be received by December 3, 2017. They should include the curriculum vitae, one (or more) research paper(s) and at least two reference letters, and should be sent by e-mail to Ms. Stefania Maddaluno citing the reference "Research Fellowship 2017" at csef@unina.it. CSEF plans to schedule interviews and seminars in January, February and March 2018 with the most promising candidates.

For additional information, contact csef@unina.it.